About Moldova

Official website: <http://www.moldova.md> and <http://www.travel.md>

Area: 33,700 km<sup>2</sup>/33843,5 km<sup>2</sup>(about 126 inhabitants per km<sup>2</sup>).

Population: 4, 3 million/3,6 million

Capital: Chisinau

Religion: Ortodox

Official language: Romanian. The majority of people speak Russian as well. The young generation speaks English or French.

Located in south-eastern Europe, The Republic of Moldova borders Romania on the west and Ukraine on the north, south and east. Most of its territory lies between two main rivers: Nistru/Dniester and Prut. The territorial and administrative structure of the Republic of Moldova includes thirty-two districts, and two autonomous regions (Gagauzia and Transnistria). The final status of Transnistria is disputed, as the central government does not control that territory. The cities of Comrat and Tiraspol, the administrative seats of the two autonomous territories also have municipality status. The culture of Moldova is a combination of Romanian culture and previous Soviet culture. The traditional Latin origins of Romanian culture reach back to the 2nd century, the period of Roman colonization in Dacia. During the centuries following the Roman withdrawal in 271, the population of the region was influenced by contact with the Byzantine Empire, neighboring Slavic, Magyar and other smaller populations, and later by the Ottoman Turks. Beginning in the nineteenth century, a strong West European (particularly French) influence came to be evident in Romanian literature and arts. The resulting mélange has produced a rich cultural tradition. In 1812 as a result of the Russian-Turkish Peace Treaty signed in Bucharest, the eastern part of Moldova situated between the Prut and Nistru/ Dniester rivers, named Bessarabia, was annexed to the Russian Empire, thus being a Russian province until 1918. In 1918 the supreme authority of the Bessarabian State – "Sfatul Țării", decided to unite with Romania. This unity lasted till 1940, the year when the country was annexed by the Soviet Union as a consequence of the Ribbentrop-Molotov Pact of 1939. Moldova functioned as a territorial entity within the USSR until the last decade of the XXth century. Soviet authorities did everything they could to break the region’s cultural ties with Romania. Many ethnic intellectuals were killed after 1940, or were deported both during and after World War II. The country became more russified. After 1960s, Soviet authorities developed urban cultural and scientific centers and institutions that were subsequently filled with Russians. On the 27th of August 1991, Republic of Moldova became an independent and sovereign State.

Moldova is a mix of modern architecture and beautiful historical monuments such as fortresses, monasteries, and churches dating from XV century. Moldova has an authentic culture, which is well known by its charming folk songs and dances, its classical novel and poem writers, its handicraft and artisan works, its secular hospitality.

Chisinau, the capital and the largest city of the Republic of Moldova, is located in the center of the country. It is placed at the economic and cultural crossroads of Europe and Asia and has a history of over seven centuries. Chisinau is a city of youth, where more than 114000 students study at 19 state and 14 private universities, is a symbol of our nation, a vivid and cosmopolitan city, where different cultures, religions and life styles come together.

The most widely spread public transport is jitney. There are many routes which interconnect all the parts of the city. You should pay 3 Moldovan Leys in jitney.

Trolleybuses are also widely spread in Chisinau, but they have not so many routes. You should pay for a ticket 2 Leys. Unlike in jitney in trolleybuses you should always be given a ticket.

Buses are not widely spread in the capital of Moldova. They have not so many routes, it takes longer to wait for them, and you should pay for a ticket 3 Leys. Like in trolleybus you should be given a ticket.

Taxi services are widely spread in Chisinau. If you come from airport you should take into consideration that airport lies outside the city and the price for taxi may be higher. Taxi is always cheaper if you phone to taxi-office than if you just snag a taxi on the street. You can find the number of taxi phone on the site <http://www.webtaxi.md/>.

There are some jams in rush hours. In Chisinau nowadays, it doesn't take more than 15-20 minutes to stay in jam.
